

Société Française de Biochimie et Biologie Moléculaire

A group for PhD students and young researchers in the field of biochemistry and molecular biology

Network for young members offering activities and opportunities at the National level within the SFBBM and at the European level in the Junior Sections of the FEBS

FEBS
Federation of European Biochemical
Societies

OBJECTIVES

- Enable active participation in the scientific community
- To respond to the specific needs of young researchers
- Join a dedicated space in the future new SFBBM website and the "FEBS network" for collaboration and resource sharing
- Provide a framework for developing skills and enabling the formation of a collaborative network
- Organization of events:
 - Mini-congress backed by the annual congress of the SFBBM and the FEBS
 - Activities of the SFBBM thematic groups
 - Online conferences: research, pedagogy and career plan from the SFBBM junior section and the FEBS junior sections
